

No other country in the world, whether member or non-member of the United Nations, has been the object of so many rebukes, censures and condemnations by the principal organs of the United Nations - for actions in violation of the Charter, and for non-compliance with decisions of competent bodies of the World Organization.