

App.4.I 'Abwein: typical peasant house	168
App.4.IIa Poor peasant house: 'Abwein	169
App.4.IIb Field storage hut	170
5.1 The village plaza ( saha ) and main entry point	171
5.2 Location map of the village guest-house	175
5.3 The village plaza and guest-house	176
5.4 The village guest-house	178
5.5 The Shu'aibi and Can'an private reception rooms	179
5.6 Men shared their communal meal during the month of Ramadan	182
5.7 Hierarchical seating arrangement in the madafeh	187
5.8 Facets of the village plaza and the guest-house	191
6.1 The three regional religious seasons celebrated by muslim community in Palestine	198
6.2 Map showing the location of the village mosque	201
6.3 The village mosque	203
6.4 The simple village mosque contrasted sharply with the elaborate Barghouthi buildings around it	204
6.5 Selected holy shrines in Deir Ghassaneh	209
6.6 The Khawwas sanctuary	211
6.7 Interior of al-Khawwas	213
6.8 The Khawwas holy shrine	215
6.9 The tree of Sheikh Deeb	217
6.10 The Village Sacred Environment	221
6.11 Map showing the locations of sacred elements located outside the village built-up area	222
Appendix 1: Holy sanctuaries in Deir Ghassaneh	223
Appendix 2: Muslim villages in the central highlands in which a village mosque was located, 1880s	225
Appendix 3: Christian villages in the central highlands in which a village church was located, 1880s	227
II.1 Buildings constructed between 1920-1950	238
II.2 Buildings constructed after 1950	238
II.3 Deir Ghassaneh from a concentric to a linear pattern of dispersion	239
II.4a New school built in 1925	241
II.4b Olive press in between old structures	241
II.4c New house replacing an old one	241
II.5 Some houses built in the 1930s broke away from the old village nucleus	242
II.6 Clan-based guest-houses replaced the single unifying centre	244
II.7 The new village mosque	244
II.8 The new village centre located along the main road	245
II.9 Rundown old quarters	246
II.10 Deserted houses in the old quarter	247
II.11 New houses built in the midst of individually owned land	249
II.12 The house of Abu Rida: the disappearance of animal and agricultural produce area	251
II.13 Alterations on old houses	252
II.14 Variety of house type and styles	252
II.15 Layout of selected new houses	253
II.16 The merger between rural and urban forms	254
II.17 Houses open directly to the street in a community where privacy is still highly valued	259